

What do I want to learn or understand better?

I still want to keep getting better at both the front end and back end. This sprint I however did not learn as much due to my bachelor thesis taking a lot of time of the week. Therefore most of my goals from the week 4 reflection will be the same.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I can help by sharing whatever knowledge that I have that could help my teammates as well as providing assistance whenever necessary. If someone has trouble understanding then I can help by discussing and perhaps reaching a solution together.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

As the scrum master, I have continued to try and improve our scrum process as best as I can. This means leading planning meetings, daily standups and leading the team reflection process to make sure we stay on course as well as possible. It also means gathering the data for the KPIs and other things. I want to get better at leading the planning sessions and become more skilled in determining good user stories that are sliced vertically.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

I have not contributed towards the team's deliveries this week in any significant regard due to increased workload on my bachelor thesis which I was not alone with this week. Next week I want to finish my user stories that I have started and continue with my goals from the reflection from week 4.